FROM BIOECONOMICS TO DEGROWTH - Georgescu-Roegen
Nicholas Georgescu-Roegen's (1906-94) most original contribution is his bioeconomic theory. Based on a profound rethinking of the foundations of neoclassical economics, bioeconomics represents a completely new paradigm compared to both the standard and the Marxist approach. Opening economics to natural sciences led Georgescu-Roegen to point out the bio-physical limits to growth. In the last ...

Nicolae Georgescu-Roegen (1906-1994) is considered today as perhaps the chief founder of the transdisciplinary field today known as Ecological Economics, but that he defined himself as Bioeconomics. In his later years Georgescu-Roegen intended to write a book of this title that would systematize what he considered to be the most significant results of his work.

Downloadable! The paper aims to put into perspective Nicholas Georgescu-Roegen's bioeconomics and Serge Latouche's degrowth approaches. In particular, we analyse the foundations of these approaches such as they have been put forward by those two economists. If the cross-reading of their work shows both proximity and distance, bioeconomics and degrowth do not have to be confused.

the foundations of degrowth are found in the bioeconomics of Georgescu-Roegen [11,12] and the philosophy of Illich [13], but degrowth also incorporates elements from the socio-historical and anthropological critique of development [14,15], from post-development doctrines [16] and from other sources. The degrowth perspective is characterised
